

Blames Unions as Police Seize Five After Shop Blast

(By Associated Press)

Chicago.—Fourteen hundred sticks of dynamite three inches in diameter and 10 inches long, and 100 sticks of T. N. T. were seized Monday by police, following the capture of five dynamiters in the act of bombing a shoe repair shop.

One of the prisoners was wounded by police, who had surrounded the shop for hours following a tip that it was to be bombed.

Richard Burke, 23, the wounded man, was carrying the bomb when the five approached the shoe shop. Police detected the five men, who were dressed in work clothes, and the explosion tore the entire front out of the store, threw David Krenan, the owner, and his family from their beds upstairs and broke windows for blocks around.

Search of a house where the prisoners were taken showed the bomb making of workers. Burke, who is believed to be dying, told the police he supplied the bombs for several labor unions, and the men to throw them. Police say he made a detailed statement of bomb outrages undertaken for the shoe repairmen's and janitors' unions.

Chief of Detectives Hughes said the arrests would clear up scores of bomb explosions during the last six months and involve a number of union officials.

"In spite of the fact that the local press has said that the I. W. W. are bomb throwers and Bolsheviks, that is a lie," declared Forrest. "Those men who have traveled extensively know so. They are mere migratory workers and are doing the dirtiest class of work."

"I am referring at the time, he said, to the endeavors made in Wisconsin to pass laws against 'criminal syndicates'."

"There were two I. W. W. locals in Wisconsin at that time," he stated. "One was in Superior and one small one in Milwaukee. The I. W. W. cannot vote because they are disorganized and not staying long enough in one place. That was the excuse for their being outlawed."

"We have not to use the same methods of a capitalist. There were three trains that had the right of way through here last night on the Northwestern. I know of another train that they carried the men that were shot. They were taken to a conference some."

Thrills in Military Spectacle; Gov. Blaine Speaks to Throng

(By Associated Press)

Arriving just as the colors were being hoisted, Gov. Blaine made his first public appearance in Janesville as governor on Sunday afternoon at the close of the military exposition of Southern Wisconsin national guard units. Together with Adjutant General Orlando Holloway, he received the review of the battalion.

The governor was late in arriving and for a time it was doubtful if he would attend the ceremonies. At the last minute when the call was sounded for the troops to "pass in review" at five o'clock, Governor Blaine came on the grounds.

Speech Is Short. Following acknowledgment to the colors and troops, the governor made a short speech. More than half the throng, tired of the long wait, had left the grand stand and grounds.

The governor was applauded as he walked to the reviewing automobile cheering and applauding when he spoke of achieving continued peace with restricted national defense.

He spoke only on the national guard and kindred military subjects, "during politics of mention of the present state administration. It was a speech without a jolt or a pin wheel of life works."

"I was delayed in the delivery of orders," explained Governor Blaine.

General Holloway, Colonel Byron Leavitt and Major David Atwood, representing the governor's staff, made the trip early in the day, and by agreement, were to inform the governor if the location were in condition to warrant the trip. The governor suffered a painful injury to his foot when with the Wisconsin militia at Camp Douglas and still limps slightly.

Only Small Army. But the governor came and made a speech on the traditional history and future of the national guard. "In the future we look to our national guard for protection at home and to be the foundation of our national defense," said Governor Blaine. "Since the great war national authorities have ordered as small an army as possible."

"We hope that there never will be a time for a repetition of the World war, but should we have a repetition of such a war, we must be prepared to meet it with a small army."

"We are told that modern war is a white civilization. Military leaders are crying for peace. We hope that at the coming arms conference there will be wisdom and common sense to make it possible to settle disputes in an orderly way and never again will Christians have to sacrifice itself."

POSITIONS THAT PAY WELL AND ARE ALWAYS TO BE HAD.
The perfecting of typesetting key-boards has brought new and unusual opportunities in the printing business, the business that gives development to great minds.

Positions of this kind always have paid well and perhaps always will, and doubtless they will always be plentiful because the printing business expands as civilization develops. Anybody who could learn to operate a typewriter can learn to operate a typesetting machine. If you want to learn how to do the work of a monotype machine; if you want to learn to do the work of a linotype or a hotytype machine; if you want to learn to operate any of these machines, if you want to learn the work of the business office—if you want to get into a work that will always pay you well, and if you can spare time for four months for preparation, write for Prospectus to American Publishers' and Southern Publishers' TYPE-SETTING DEPARTMENT of the GEORGIA-ALABAMA BUSINESS COLLEGE, Macon, Ga.

UNDERWOOD, LODGE MOVE STRATEGIC

Appointment Disarms Democrats, Delights Faction of Republicans.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.

Copyright 1921, by Janesville Gazette.

Washington, President Harding's selection of Senators Lodge and Underwood as American commissioners to the armament conference in London, has stirred up more ferment inside both the democratic and republican parties than anything else since the inauguration.

It means a complete reorganization of both parties in congress. It is being called the "political move in years." With one fell swoop, Mr. Harding has taken the democratic and republican parties and placed them in a position of complete disarray.

Several democrats are still hoping Senator Underwood will decline to accept the post. They feel that nobody in congress is better qualified than Oscar Underwood to lead the fight against the tariff and tax bills framed by the republicans. By training and experience, Mr. Underwood is fitted to conduct the minority fight. Nobody knows what went on in Mr. Harding's mind when he selected Oscar Underwood as the democratic strength in congress by picking him for the armament conference commission.

Friend of Harding's.

The democratic politicians say he must have known he would be weakening his opponents. They admit he has a right to do that. On the other hand, President Harding and Senator Underwood are not friends. They are intimate in the senate. Mr. Harding respects and admires the Alabama senator and entirely aside from fitness for the position, Mr. Underwood is a man of more like bestowing the honor and prestige of an American commissioner to such an important international conference on Oscar Underwood than any other democrat.

It is an index of his desire to "play ball" with the republicans on foreign policy. Having the personal confidence and trust of the president and secretary of state, Mr. Underwood will not be a minority commissioner. He will know all that his colleagues know.

Hitchcock to Lead.

As for the situation in the senate, the fight against republican tax and tariff measures will have to be led by Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, Simmons of North Carolina, and Harrison of Mississippi.

But if the democrats are in trouble, it is not a circumstance to what is being said inside the republican party. The statement is made by some senators that the president is really "getting rid of Lodge." It is insisted that republican leadership in the senate has been far from satisfactory to the White House and that a graceful opportunity to reorganize the republican leadership was welcomed. Again, nobody will ever know what actuated Mr. Harding to appoint Mr. Lodge to the armament commission instead of Senator Knox, for instance, who was a former secretary of state and actually dealt with foreign governments before. Mr. Knox, too, paid particular attention to Far Eastern questions when he was secretary of state.

The Place of Knox.

It is pointed out that if the president had felt entire confidence in the Lodge leadership, he could have chosen Senator Knox to represent the republican party in the senate—the man who has been the guiding force in republican councils on foreign affairs for the last two years, and Mr. Harding could then have announced that owing to the importance of retaining Senator Lodge in his place as majority leader, it was necessary to choose somebody else and that Senator Knox was eminently qualified for the position. The logic of the situation pointed to Knox rather than Lodge. That's why the gossip about the leadership question has required a good deal of mummery. While Mr. Lodge is absorbed in the duties of commissioner to the armament conference, Senator James Watson, Indiana, will try his hand at the leadership game.

Lodge Out for Six Months.

But there is no certainty that he will be permanently at the head of the party forces. If he makes good, he will run things for the president. If he fails, the administration will be compelled to shift about again. The expectation is that Senator Lodge will be concentrating on the work of the armament conference which may last three to six months. That will be long enough interval for republican leadership to find itself.

SINGING SOLOS IN SILOS IS LATEST DOWN ON THE FARM

Musical echoes floated around the barn yard. The old hen puffed in and scratched to listen. The colts dozed back, the pig stopped stock-still in the wallow and grunted. Mystic sounds came from somewhere in the bowels of the silo.

There were faint echoes of "Sing-me-a-song" reported the loud echo to the mystified audience, but the man and his wife on the farm. The hired man scratched his head and decided to keep away from the silo opening where dripped a liquid that stung. The silo. That was it. The music was coming from there.

The farm owner scratched his head and wondered if a flock of canary birds had roosted in his hen's nest. Picking up his pitchfork—which might be used as a tuning fork—he went to the silo, which was empty of food.

"Do-re-me-fa-sol," howled a voice from the inside of the tower. Having heard the highbrow stuff on the family phonograph he stopped and listened, expecting to hear the "Blind Scene" or the "Anvil Chorus."

On opening the door the farmer found his 20-year-old daughter, who had musical aspirations, singing away.

"What the—why all this?" questioned the farmer.

"Oh, Papa, the silo is a wonderful place to practice opera, just listen. The daughter sang as she looked into another musical spasm. "Ah—woo—see the effect!"

Sure enough the vocal notes played hide and seek around the silo, hitting the bricks as they went. The farmer, who had been singing "The Star Spangled Banner" in a series of echoes.

Then it was learned that a silo has great acoustic values. Daughter goes out daily for her singing lessons, changing from attempts at opera to practicing the hymn for the Sunday services. If you don't believe it, try singing in your own silo.

BUY STATE PARK AS STATE GIFT

Frank Cannon Heads Organization to Raise $35,000 for Purchase.

Madison, Wis.—A statewide movement to provide funds for the purchase of the Northern Lakes park in Price and Vilas counties, the only remaining area of virgin forest in Wisconsin, will be undertaken this week, Frank A. Cannon, secretary of the voluntary organization behind the campaign, announced today.

Plans are completed for an organization that will reach every community in the state, he said. Judge Asa K. Owens of Phillips, Wisconsin, will head the body, with Herman Fehr of Milwaukee as treasurer, and Mr. Cannon as secretary and director of publicity.

Organizing for the Drive.

A regional director is to be elected in each of the 11 Congressional districts of the state, with county directors under them in charge of committee in each city and village. This organization will raise the needed $350,000 by voluntary subscription of any amount.

The plan calls for the purchase of the 7,500 acres of virgin timber land in Northern Wisconsin, with a group of nine lakes situated within the area, and a branch of the Flambeau river flowing through it.

Known by Blaine.

This is the same area that the legislature provided for in a bill passed near the close of the session, but which was vetoed by Governor Blaine. The special legislative committee which investigated the park, voted unanimously for its purchase by the state in order to save the timber from the logging companies which have already had a railroad into the region and started operations.

Their report to the legislature says that it is the unanimous opinion of the committee that this tract, because of its combination of lakes and lakes, with its abundance of fish, its virgin forests, and wild animals, is a valuable asset to the state of Wisconsin and should be preserved in its present beauty for the present and future generations, by being set aside as a state park.

The proposal of those who are backing the move to make the purchase by voluntary subscription, is to provide sufficient funds to take over the land and then turn it over to the state as a park.

Citizens of the two counties in which the park lies are about to petition the conservation commission to have the land declared a prohibited area with hunting forbidden. Game is said to abound there.

Assurances of support have been received from various associations of commerce, the Rotary Clubs, Kiwanis Clubs, Federation of Women's clubs and other statewide organizations. Mr. Cannon said. Active support is said to have been pledged by a number of these societies.

Reached by Road.

The park is reached by state trunk highway number 70 and is said to be accessible to people generally. It is reported as the most beautiful wooded section of Wisconsin, retaining the attraction of the natural forest of the state which have now largely been cut down by lumber companies and settlers.

New York—George W. Wickersham, former attorney general of the United States, said on his return from Europe on the steamship Lancia, that he had not found the Germans as prosperous as other travelers have reported recently. The Germans in Berlin, he said, "looked down and out and thoroughly beaten."

"They seemed to lack the 'snap' they exhibited before the war," he added. "They are working in a dogged way, to be sure, but prosperity, as we know it, is far from theirs.

"The present government in Germany, it seemed to me, was made up of honest men, who are trying to square Germany with the whole world. Whether it is strong enough to keep down the ambitions of the military factions remains to be seen."

From the opening until the final fade out you will gasp for breath for the next laugh. The greatest mirth provoker the De Havens have ever produced.

There's a big laugh coming to you when you see Connie take a tip from Eve. But even Eve plays a snuff-time hole in her body compared with the trick Connie puts over. Nervy? Yes, bo. Nervy and snice.

Men had given her money and jewels and furs; they had given her adoration and what they called love. But she loathed them all, as she mentally compared them with the friends and patrons of the old days. She knew that she could never again be happy with the friends and patrons of the old days. She knew that she could never again be happy with the friends and patrons of the old days. She knew that she could never again be happy with the friends and patrons of the old days.

Patton Heads Local Net Club--Start Amateur Golf Meet

SOLO SEMI-FINALS TO BE PLAYED OFF
THIS AFTERNOON

Clarence K. Patton was elected president of the Janesville "Y" tennis club at a meeting held at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday night. He succeeds A. George Bennett, another player of the organization.

Assemblyman A. E. Matheson, president of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A., was elected president of the club. He presided at the banquet at the Y. M. C. A.

Other officers chosen were Samuel McKelvey, secretary-treasurer; to succeed Don Bullock, and Don Bullock, chairman of the games committee, with the other members Robert Cunningham and George Bennett.

Patton plays Novlin in the semi-finals of the singles at the Y. M. C. A. court.

Speakers were A. J. Salinger, general secretary of the "Y"; M. L. Bergman, physical director; Merrill Nowlan, C. K. Patton, George Bennett and Frank Sicular. Cleanliness in sports and the value of amateur competition were stressed.

On Monday Patton plays Novlin in the semi-finals of the singles at the Y. M. C. A. court.

It had been hoped to stage the semi-finals on Saturday, but so many matches in the other events were played that the feature event was held off. Many of these matches were between men who are going to play college this week, and it was to give them an opportunity to play that the semi-finals were delayed rather than have them default.

Doubles Finals Wednesday.

Games in the doubles will be played on Wednesday. Bennett-Novlan will meet Cunningham-Bullock.

Bullock and Cunningham won their way into the finals of the doubles by defeating Sam McKelvey and C. K. Patton Saturday. The scores were 1-1 and 6-4. Severance and Kneeland defaulted to Bennett-Novlan who both won.

The club next year will get an early start. Measurements have been taken and expectations are to have three courts.

Bakers Swamp Johnstown, 12-4

Collecting a total of 21 hits, the Janesville Bakers swamped Johnstown in the final game of the season, 12 to 4. They gathered the bludgeoning "Two-Hit" Patton who both won.

The game was played at Carver's Rock.

Bick was invincible for the Bakers until the eighth when he eased up and allowed two runs. Cutts, Raubacher, Anderson, Peterson, were the strong hitters for the Doughboys getting three and four cracks each. A triple play pulled by Hager, Jackson, Peterson was a feature.
